Since the Tropical Treasure Hunt's inception, Chicken 'n Bowling (C'nB) has been an integral partner. C'nB was one of the locations for kids and families to enjoy their birthday party treasure hunts before Tropical Treasure Hunt even had packages to choose from. The service has come a long way since those early days of building each hunt from scratch. Now, many of the corporate treasure hunts with up to 80 team members will visit the bowling alley sleuthing for clues around their approximately 10,000 square foot, two story entertainment zone. The corporate clients also compete in a fun bowling competition. Also, C'nB is one of the stops during the Pirates, Puzzles & Rum Hunt package, where a delicious rum drink can be enjoyed at their establishment during the epic four and a half hour bar crawl.

We caught up with Chicken 'n Bowling's Owner, Jon Link, to get his perspective on our joint package, Pirate, Puzzles & Rum Hunt, as well as team building and their unique bowling alley. You can learn more about their establishment on their Facebook page.

TREASURE HUNT OF THE MONTH

CELEBRATING A CHERISHED FAMILY TRADITION WITH ADVENTURE

On a beautiful day in St. Thomas with a high of 81 degrees, a family of eight were celebrating their cherished tradition of vacationing together. The family chose The Tropical Treasure Hunt Co. to provide a unique experience for their entire crew to enjoy. The point of contact, Michelle, was engaged from the moment she emailed the business when she inquired about the service. The Tropical Treasure Hunt offers our clients the option to purchase 'treasures' to be discovered by their loved ones at the end of the treasure hunt. Clients can also provide their own gift outside of the ones offered by the business to add a personal touch.

Michelle was tremendous at organizing the experience for her family. She sent sentimental 'treasures' to the business weeks prior to the hunt. These included personalized cards and beautiful magnets that she created herself. She also purchased Tropical Treasure Hunt engraved tumblers, doubloon necklaces, tee shirts and the popular Caribbean hook bracelets. As their family progressed through the Golden Age of Piracy treasure hunt package the excitement built as they got closer to the treasure chest. After encountering the famous pirate, Anne Bonny, they traded jewels and doubloons for the last piece of the treasure map. Then, with the full map in hand, the family found the buried treasure. With the turn of a key found during their adventure, they opened their prize.

"Our group was eight adults ranging from 29 to 84, some members highly competitive, others not so much. This worked great for everyone. The museum is fantastic, much nicer than expected, the clues, and "equipment" for the treasure hunt were high quality. We had a lot of fun. I added some personal "treasure" to surprise the family."

- Michelle & Family, Coventry, Rhode Island

A Breath of Fresh Air in Red Hook – The Easterly

By Sean Liphard, Editor

It finally happened. The Easterly opened near the ferry dock in Red Hook in the old Señor Frog's location. And. We. Could. Not. Be. Happier. More than two years in the making, The Easterly was well worth the wait. And if you're familiar with its sister restaurant on St. John, The Longboard, you knew the new kid on The Rock would not disappoint.

To quote the website, The Easterly is a shoreline culinary oasis offering innovative craft cocktails and wood-fired cuisine of the rustic Caribbean. Yep. Couldn't have said it better ourselves. The moment you step inside, you're transported to another place. If Dorothy from the Wizard of Oz came to visit, well, we're pretty sure she'd say we're not in Red Hook anymore.

Let's start with the ambiance. You can tell a lot of thought, planning and care went into the design of this place – the perfect combination of an inviting, upscale, yet comfortably casual, warm, tropical beach vibe. From its oyster shell walls, large L-shaped wrap around bar with plenty of seating, to the breezy porch overlooking the water, it's just what the East End needed.

WE TREASURE VIRGIN ISLAND BUSINESSES

Many businesses are dependent on other businesses to operate effectively. It is a simple concept. Businesses rely on other company's products and services to allow them to prosper and for their customers to enjoy the benefits (indirectly or directly). Companies rely on distribution partners and supply chains, other organization's sales channels, food and beverage as well as apparel partners, landlords, consultants, marketers and a plethora of mutually beneficial business to business (B2B) partnerships. That simple concept could not be more important to The Tropical Treasure Hunt Co. Our value proposition is predicated on partnering with other Virgin Island companies to bring a magical day to life for our clients.
